Ms. Nalumu Stellah a teacher at Kawuku Boarding Primary School, she taught her children of Primary Four how to make different hand work crafts. She took them in the nearby environment and told them to collect different materials. Some pupils collected banana fibres, plastic bottles, straws, old slippers and wires. Samuel and Patrick used the old wires and slippers to make toy cars. Bridget and Brenda used the banana fibres to make dolls while Nakato and Namuli used the straws to make hats and mats. One Thursday, evening, Ms. Nalumu invited the parents to the above mentioned children and showed them what their children had done. CULTURE

Culture the vehicle that drives me, to my customs and beliefs.

To kneel while greeting elders.

To dress decently to avoid exposing my privacy.

To work hard to avoid stealing

To pray and thank God and to ask for more.

Culture, a practice that has kept many tribes intact.

Look at the Baganda, dressed in gomeses as ladies and kanzus as men.

Look at the Banyankole so smart in the Mushanaha,

Oh the Basoga, I like that wrapper of theirs, Oh the Kikuyus, you cannot part them with their Jesus.

Culture, I really love and respect it,

Staple food, is the way to go by different tribes, atapa for the itesot, matooke for the Baganda, sweet potatoes for the Basoga. Culture, can you imagine the beautiful totems and toboos that instill discipline! We should all love and respect our culture.
